

RECEPTION ACCORDED ROOSEVELT

Great Ovation Tendered Ex-president at Chey- enne Celebration

LOST SIGHT OF POLITICS

While He Mingled With Cowboys, Soldiers and Indians—Re- views Big Parade.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 27.—West met east and both stepped back a quarter of a century in the shadow of the long reaches of the Wyoming range today. Theodore Roosevelt, cowboy, swung from the platform of his special train from the east and walked down a line of yipping, yelling cowboys into Cheyenne, a typical cow-town out for a time.

The "boys," several of whom had known the Colonel when he was punching cows and riding fence, went wild with holiday enthusiasm.

Roosevelt brought with him the only trace of the "effete east" that was found in Cheyenne today, the final day of the frontier celebration and its climax. But all the west was here with a horse for every man. Prancers driven from the ranges of Wyoming and Colorado by the sheep herders, exchanged sympathies with the cowboy of Nebraska, who has fallen before the westward march of the farmer. Alkali fence riders from the plains of New Mexico and Arizona, fraternized with their brethren of the saddle of Nevada and Utah. The stolid Indian on his angry cayuse loped along with the men who drove him from the range and who are now fast being driven forth themselves. Cowgirls, Sioux and Shoshone squaws all the personnel of the west of the days of the saddle and six-shooter of the rope and round-up were in Cheyenne.

Roosevelt today was the "big boss" of the range. When he left his train, an escort of cowboys surrounded him and they followed his every movement. Their costumes presented a riot of color, which was almost enough to ruin ordinary eyesight. Chaps of argenta goat hide shorts of all shades of scarlet, purple and yellow; moccasins, green and violet neckerchiefs, and hats of astonishing width and brilliancy were some of the queerer effects.

But politics, insurgency, the New York state fight, the Taft administration and the other political affairs that have pursued Roosevelt across the continent seem to have been lost while the Colonel crossed the Nebraska prairies. The cowboys didn't seem to care what the Colonel's political beliefs might be, or what Sherman, Barnes and Woodruff were trying to do to him in New York.

The Colonel shouted "Hello, there, you boys," as he dashed down the steps of his car, the hundreds of cowmen, who seemed to have stepped right out of a Frederick Remington painting, unleashed a wild yell and Colonel Roosevelt's day in Cheyenne was on.

Word that the Nassau county Republicans had named him a delegate to the New York state Republican convention was received by Colonel Roosevelt on his way to Cheyenne. He merely smiled and said he would be at Saratoga. The Colonel refused to discuss the movement begun in Orleans county, N. Y., to elect him temporary chairman of the convention over the head of Sherman. It can be stated on the best of authority, however, that any scheme on the part of the "old guard" in New York to nominate Roosevelt for governor and to eliminate him by lining him at the polls, which has been widely rumored, will fail. Colonel Roosevelt will absolutely refuse to run for governor.

Colonel Roosevelt's speech delivered today follows:

When at the close of my hunting trip in Africa I reached the borders of civilization, the first invitation I accepted was this to visit the capital of Wyoming on the day when the people of the frontier came together to commemorate their achievements. I was glad it was so, because I have a peculiar feeling for the men and women of what used to be called the "far west" and especially for those of the cattle country.

For a number of years I lived on a ranch on the Little Missouri, sharing work and play, good fortune and bad fortune, with my neighbors, working on the roundup, serving as delegate from the Little Missouri roundup district to the Montana Stock Growers' association and even at times acting as a deputy sheriff at my end of the county.

I count these years as among the most valuable of my life, because nothing breeds such community of feeling as to work with one's fellow men at their life tasks and to learn to know their feelings by actually sharing

EAGLES EXPEL DOWDSWORTH.

LA FOLLETTE HITS TAFT

Senator Declares That President is Interfering in Factional State Fights.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 27.—In a leading editorial in his magazine, Senator Robert M. La Follette brands as false a supposedly inspired dispatch a few days ago from Beverly, Mass., in which it was said that President Taft was taking no part in the factional fights within the Republican party.

He asserts that in the case of Wisconsin the president has taken a personal interest in the campaign to the extent of directing the fight on La Follette and the insurgent congressmen. Senator La Follette closes his editorial by saying:

"Let the truth be plainly stated. Let the president stand out in the open. The administration has presumed to read Republicans out of the party for voting their honest convictions on legislation. The president is directly taking part in state fights involving the election of Republican senators and congressmen."

SMOKING ROOM IN THEATER FOR WOMAN PATRONS

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 27.—Confidence on the part of the management of the Princess theater in the utility of a public smoking room for women is not shared today by the repressed horde of club and society women. These women, conditioning cigarette smoking by those who choose, declare that the initiated "pipes" are not carried to the opera for consumption in a public rest room. It is less vulgar, they say, in the section of the home. In spite of this plan will go forward for the installation of smoking quarters in the beautiful new Princess theater, which is one of a chain of houses including the American Music Hall, Chicago, under the management of William Morris, New York.

In the face of the nation-wide protest against elegant smoking by women, Dan S. Fishel, director of the Princess is advised by the syndicate head that America is years behind the times in this respect.

The innovation includes the free distribution of gold tipped cigarettes to women.

AVIATOR

Carried Out to Sea by Strong Wind, Fell When Machine Collapsed. Rescued by Tug.

New York, Aug. 27.—Carried out to sea by a strong wind against against which his motor was powerless, Bud Mars, aviator, was fighting hard for safety today when his Curtiss biplane suddenly collapsed. He fell free of the machine and dropped 300 feet into the water. He was picked up by a tug, apparently unhurt. An effort was made to rescue the biplane.

INVESTIGATION OF LIGHT PLANT BY CITY COUNCIL

The councilmen and the council committee appointed to investigate the trouble at the Municipal Electric Light plant, were in session all of Friday afternoon and besides looking over the plant they examined three witnesses, and the investigation will be pushed to the limit and the committee will probably not make their finding public before the next meeting of council. The council committee was composed of Messrs. Irwin, Prior and Orr, with Mr. Irwin acting as chairman. Besides these men Councilmen Starr, Vogelmeier and Baker were present as were Mayor Arkle, Council Clerk McCarthy and Service Director Taylor.

A short census was held prior to the examination of the plant and witnesses, and at this census it was decided to bar out newspapermen, although the investigation was supposed to be a public affair. Attorney Russell, who was to represent Superintendent Crawford, was also excluded from the hearing.

The plant and the uses of the various machines was explained to the councilmen by George W. Izant, an expert electrician from the Westinghouse company. The damaged machinery and the damage done to the plant was explained and then the examination of witnesses was commenced. Supt. A. E. Crawford was first examined and after the examination he was allowed to hear the examinations that followed. Isaac Myers, J. S. Kuster, Jr., and Theodore Caw, the engineer were examined in turn by the committee, but nothing was given out for publication.

The expert gave as his opinion that the plant was not overloaded and it is reported that he said the damage to the plant was caused by Superintendent Crawford who tried to make re-

CRITICISE EMPEROR'S STATEMENT

German Press Protests Against Public Speak- ing of William

POLITICAL SENSATION

Is Declaration That He Rules by Divine Right—Talks on Woman's Suffrage.

Berlin, Aug. 27.—The speech delivered by Emperor William of Germany before the provincial banquet at Koenigsberg, in which he reiterated and emphasized his belief in the divine mandate by which he rules, referred to the Prussian crown as being bestowed by God's grace and not by parliaments of people's assemblies, and laid a lance against the present movement for women suffrage, is the political sensation of the hour.

The leading organs of the German press devote extended comment to it, generally criticising the emperor's utterances, and there are indications that the discourse will have deep political effect on the country, nearly all Berlin papers discussing the subject in connection with the political crisis of November, 1908, when the publication by the London Daily News of an interview with the emperor aroused a storm against the uncontrolled public speaking of the emperor.

The serious Vossische Zeitung, the Tageblatt, the Post and other papers point out the constitutional character of the kingdom of Prussia in the empire and inquire whether the chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, knew of the emperor's purpose of delivering such a speech. They predict that it will lead to a renewed discussion of the emperor's constitutional position when the reichstag reassembles in November.

The strongly monarchical Tagesschau, the favorite journal of army officers, says:

"This speech means a storm. Never before has Emperor William set into such clear relief his romantic, medieval idea of his non-responsibility to man's judgment, of his not being bound by the constitutional co-operation of the people and of ruling" by God's free grace, against all those convictions and feelings which today determine our existence as a state."

"Why," asks the Tagesschau, "should the emperor choose this moment to emphasize his ruling by God's grace and his own right, when it will nourish an anti-monarchical agitation and good monarchical agitation?"

SEVEN JERSEYITES SEEKING UNITED STATES SENATORIAL TOGA

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 27.—At least four Jerseyites have filed petitions to leave his place in the hands of the legislature direct. The same stand was taken by David Baird of Camden, who also wants the seat. The Democratic candidates for the toga are Frank M. Mulvaney of Newark and James E. Martin.

Three of the Republican aspirants have filed petitions. They are former Governor Franklin Murphy, former Governor Edward C. Stokes and Congressman Charles N. Fowler. Senator John Keen, who wants to be re-elected, did not file a petition, as he decided to

LAWYERS DO NOT BELIEVE CRIPPEN WILL BE CONVICTED

Liverpool, Aug. 27.—Dr. Crippen arrived here today and was hustled ashore, watched by a large crowd. He and Miss Leneve will have a preliminary hearing at the earliest possible date. They will be arraigned together, but the accusation against the girl will probably be withdrawn. The real trial will not begin until October. The government seems to have a weak case. It must prove that a murder was committed, that Bell Elmore was the victim, that the prosecution has the dead body, and that Crippen was the murderer. Few lawyers believe Crippen will be convicted. In case of a conviction with a recommendation for mercy, Crippen will be condemned to death, but will probably have his sentence commuted. This is the general method.

ANTI-LABOR DECISION RENDERED BY JUDGE GOFF

New York, Aug. 27.—A labor union that orders a strike to enforce a demand for a closed shop violates the law, Judge Goff of the state supreme court, it decides the suit of the "Cook and Sift Makers' Association" against the International Garment Workers' Union and is the most sweeping anti-labor decision ever rendered by a New York court.

Judge Goff issued an order restraining the strikers from interfering with the operation of the establishments of the members of the employers' association, and the decision is expected to go a long way towards forcing the cloak strikers to accept the compromise agreement offered by their leaders, which they rejected last night.

Judge Goff bases his decision on a former court decision which declares that employers cannot force their employees to join a particular union. Judge Goff says if the employers cannot lawfully combine, neither can the unions.

FUNERAL

Of Man Who is Still Alive Will Be Held at South Salem With Brass Band in Attendance.

Spencer, Ind., Aug. 27.—South Salem, a village near here, is greatly excited over the receipt of invitations to the funeral of a man who is still alive. The man is Nathan Buschman, a wealthy eccentric farmer, who is believed to be dying, but has been pronounced dead and a brass band is being sent to play at the funeral. The man is said to be in the church and will be buried Sunday, despite the fact that he is still alive. Buschman is married but has no children.

GUILTY

Canton, Aug. 27.—Clens Williams was today found guilty of first degree murder for killing his father-in-law, Warren Koons, last April. The crime was particularly brutal and revolting, he having shot his father-in-law

DYNAMITE INJURES CAR MEN

Used by Columbus Rioters Last Night and Pas- sengers Stunned

MILITIA STILL ON DUTY

Exchanging of Shots and Bombard- ment of Cars Continue Over City.

Columbus, Aug. 27.—An explosion of dynamite at 7 o'clock last evening at switch No. 6, a mile and a half north of the city limits, partly wrecked a southbound freight car of the Columbus Railway and Light Co. which was only 75 feet ahead of a northbound passenger car with forty persons on board.

Conductor Robert Beckert and Motorman Wm. Sage of the wrecked car were hurled into the roadside, but both escaped uninjured. Passengers in the car following for a moment were stunned by the explosion but no one was injured.

Four heavy wheels were demolished and the front part of the freight car was splintered. After the explosion boys picked up a stick of what was said to be dynamite.

It was impossible for the passenger car to proceed, and 28 people aboard it took a Cleveland, Akron & Columbus train at Millerville for Westerville.

It is customary for south bound cars to take the west spur of the switch and those going in the opposite direction the east spur in passing. The freight car had run through the switch onto the main track and was proceeding to Columbus, when the approaching passenger car was seen. The freight car then backed into the switch, followed by the other car, and when about to enter the main track north of the switch, ran over the dynamite.

I thought I was blown 200 miles," said Conductor Beckert after the explosion. "I heard a noise and I didn't remember anything until I found myself lying in the road."

7 COMPANIES OF FIFTH ON STRIKE DUTY.

Seven companies of the Fifth regiment were on strike duty in place of the First last night. Camp was established on the grounds of the School for the Deaf in East Town street, immediately after arrival yesterday afternoon. One company was stationed in the state house grounds last night to be ready for emergency calls.

The Cincinnati regiment left at noon. They broke camp during the morning and marched west in Town street to High, thence north to the Union station, and passed in review before Adjutant General Weybrecht and Brigadier General Speaks at the capital. General Weybrecht joined the brigade commander in commending the behavior of the Cincinnati men while on duty here. Trains for Middletown were boarded and on their arrival a seven-mile march was made to Fort Ancient, where the First Brigade goes into annual encampment.

Commands now on duty here consist of the following: Companies C, F, I and K of Cleveland, G of Norwalk, H and M of Youngstown, C of X, Zimmerman of Cleveland is in command of the local situation, with Adjutant General Weybrecht acting as personal representative of Governor Harmon.

It developed yesterday that the efforts of Councilman Harper to have council demand the reinstatement of the 22 mutinous patrolmen would have injured the standing of the men if one of the civil service rules prohibiting lobbying for applicants before the commission should be enforced. The men might have been disqualified to serve on the force for one year.

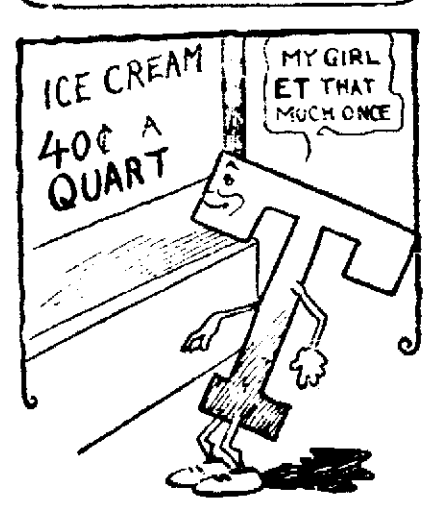

Two of the youngest car strike rioters ever before a local court, Edna Myers, aged 12, and Walter Williams, aged 19, who live at Briggsdale, were prominently sentenced to the Ohio Industrial Home at Delaware and the Boys' Industrial School, respectively, by Judge Black in juvenile court. The youngsters admitted that they threw stones at an Ohio Electric car during the recent strike on that line.

George Lyon, colored, who lives two miles northwest of Columbus, was struck in the side by a brick yesterday afternoon as he stepped off a car at Mt. Vernon and Cleveland avenues. Lyon was not seriously hurt.

Patrolman H. H. Sandusky was found guilty of unbecoming conduct by Safety Director McCune yesterday and was suspended for 10 days. M. J. Purcell, 862 Felton avenue, who filed the charge against Sandusky, asserted that the officer used profanity.

WHAT IS IT?

What style of rendering a song?
Answer to Friday's puzzle—Divine

Of the plays that hold over and begin the next season where the were interrupted by the summer vacation time has had a longer run nor enjoyed greater prosperity, past and present, than Winchell Smith's delightful comedy The Fortune Hunter with Jack Barrymore in the title role. The comedy is sprightly and, though verging on the farcical at times, is always held within legitimate bounds. It is a pure, clean story of American life today. It abounds in burlesque and healthy fun and is splendidly acted by one of the best all around companies the city has lately gathered on the metropolitan stage. Although no star is named in the cast that position is virtually held by Barrymore.

The first production of the new season was made by Charles Frohman on Monday evening, when he reopened the Garrick Theatre with a sprightly, slender little comedy, rather farce, called Love Among the Lions which was constructed by Winchell Smith from A. A. Axtley's amusing story of the same name. The plot is exceedingly thin for a four act play and there are some stretches of tiresome dialogue, but on the whole it afforded a pleasing and acceptable though quite unpretentious entertainment.

Force his way into her presence and declare his passion he is accepted at once on condition that he consent to have the ceremony performed in a den of lions which are performing at a nearby circus. His consents and the ensuing struggle between his cowardice and the fear of losing his innamorata by a display of timidity affords many moments of delicious comedy. All through the preparations for the wedding, he is torn by the conflicting emotions and the final moments in which he completes his toilet by the side of the arena are excruciatingly funny. The climax is reached when the officiating clergyman calls to ascertain what he infelicitously terms his last wishes—in regard to the ceremony of course, and then, left to himself he falls in a dead faint just as the band outside strikes up the wedding march.

Meantime the bride to be has also lost her nerve and run away, another couple being hastily substituted that the crowd may be disappointed. Each returns home and, having heard that a marriage had been performed, each one believes that the other is married at their cowardice has disgraced the substitute. Eventually, of course, the situation is cleared up.

Chicken Fudding, Southern style—Singe and clean two small chickens and joint them as for fricasse. Put them in a sautépan, add just enough boiling water to cover and one scant teaspoonful of salt. Put at the side of the fire, and simmer gently for an hour, then take out the chicken and set the broth aside. Make a smooth batter with one quart of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, one quart of milk and six well beaten eggs. Grease a deep earthen dish, and put in the batter and chicken in layers, having the best and last layers batter, and seasoning the chicken well. Bake in a moderate oven forty-five minutes to an hour, according to the thickness of the pudding. When almost done reheat the broth and season rather highly; draw to the side of the fire, and add the beaten yolks of two eggs mixed with two tablespoonfuls of cream; take from the fire as soon as it thickens, and serve with the pudding.

Harlequin Sandwiches—Take two slices of white bread and one slice of whole bread. Cut them out with a round cutter. Spread one round of white bread with a little butter, then with cream cheese mashed and mixed with finely chopped olives. Butter the round of brown bread, and spread with finely chopped nut meats mixed with mayonnaise dressing. Butter the other round of white bread. Arrange with the brown round in the center, press all firmly together by putting a plate and weight on the top, and when ready to serve, cut in tiny wedges like layer cake.

PLAYERS ASSESSED AS MERCHANDISE

Ball players, under the present system of organized baseball, can rightfully be classed as "merchandise." Under this ruling the board of review at Chicago yesterday decided that the Chicago American league team is worth $1281, and the Chicago Nationals were estimated at a trifle less than $1500.

Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Americans, filed a personality schedule with the assessors this year, declaring that the South Side team was worth $2547. He itemized it as follows: $1981 merchandise, $105 furniture, and $461 he figured was coming to him from various persons. Both assessments were confirmed by the board of review.

May Yohe, Paralyzed in a San Francisco Cafe

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 27.—May Yohe, once Lady of the Night, nobility and later a victim of a mob, was paralyzed in a San Francisco cafe.

She developed a stinging voice that was first heard in a Philadelphia church choir. Then she went on the stage. She attracted the attention of Lord Francis Hope, son of the Duchess of Newcastle. One of the wedding presents was the famous Hope diamond. It was in 1903 that they were married, and for seven years they lived together. Then came Captain Gustav Maier, Putnam Bros. Strong, the son of the mayor of New York, from the Philippines by mail her son, Japan, and Lord Francis Hope divorced her. She and Major Strong traveled much, separating and reuniting several times, but finally separating for good. Since then May Yohe has been heard of from time to time, dropping lower and lower in the ranks of the profession until the end came in the San Francisco cafe. Strong when last heard from was in Macao, in China.

Belonging to the Ant Fraternity.

The ant, though small, has occupied rather a large place in history; for from the most ancient of times, it has been held up as an object upon which we should fasten our eyes, and having fastened them, meditate to our edification. But you ask how we can fasten our eyes on the ant, and the answer is, there are two sides to all questions. There is much in what housekeepers say about the ant being a nuisance. And there is much in what Solomon says, if it was Solomon, about considering the ways of ants. It is about time for a Burbank of bugs to evolve a creature from which will be omitted the characteristics that make an ant a nuisance, and in which will be included those traits that we might be pained to dwell upon, as well as profit in meditating upon, even an insect, and the occupation will appear more generally to humanity.

As it is, the ant divides mankind sharply into two classes, those who, like the housekeeper, say the ant is a nuisance, and those who take the advice of Solomon and adopt the ant's habits. These classes are decidedly antagonistic. They eye each other with scorn. They make sarcastic speeches about each other. All of which is a pity with a permanent peace tribunal about to be formed.

Now, if there were some such insect that had the industrious, frugal habits of the ant with the gay, light spirit of the grasshopper, how we would all enjoy taking lessons from it. But as it is, those who belong to the ant fraternity are painfully busy, those of the grasshopper family scandalously idle. And there you are!

We all know those of the ant fraternity, they grub and save. They deny themselves all pleasure, that they may lay by for their old age, very commendable, to be sure, for the poorhouse probably is not an elysian retreat. The world to them, as it is to the ant, is simply a place to work in. One never sees an ant

CHARGED WITH VIOLATION OF CITY ORDINANCE

The police are looking for violators of the bedding ordinance and the first capture of an alleged violator was made yesterday morning. Several wayside camps of a kind of commission peddlers who have been peddling around Newark, and the police say without a license, was taken in, but the police failed to find him with the goods on his way to the city.

Every since then they have been watching for him and today he was nabbed in the most approved style. The man arrested is a home of Captain Swank and sold some vegetables to Mrs. Swank, and then he was nabbed. He was taken to the city prison and held for the police to be taken to the police station to be put in the lock-up for a few days. He will be given the beating later.

EXCELLENT REPORT OF WASHINGTON T. LAND APPRAISER

Mr. Willard Smoots, one of the staunch Democrats of Washington township, was in the city Saturday, and made the Advocate a very pleasant social visit. Mr. Smoots is the efficient land appraiser in that township, and his report, recently returned to County Auditor Riley, is worthy of special mention, as are others, for the good and careful work done by him. The report, which is a model of neatness and accuracy, shows careful work and a determination on the part of Mr. Smoots to do his full duty, which is evidenced by the appraisal which shows a large increase over ten years ago. Mr. Smoots has certainly made a capital appraiser, and his work is much to his credit. He has more than "made good" and his methods have been marked with commendable interest in his work and an effort to do the right thing in every instance.

REMAINSWILL BE SENT HOME FROM ABROAD

Edward C. Wright of 261 Elmwood avenue, brother of Mertes Wright, the Newark young man who died in Antwerp, Belgium, received a telegram yesterday from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wright, telling him to cable for the body to be shipped home. Mr. and Mrs. Wright have been visiting in Portland, Oregon, with a son, Stanley Wright, and will start for their home in this city Sunday evening. Mr. Wright sent word at once and Saturday morning received a cablegram stating that the body will be shipped on the Kronland of the Red Star Line, Saturday, September 3, arriving in New York City about September 8. Mr. Wright, the brother, will meet the boat and bring the body to Newark.

Regarding Mertes Wright's military record, it is stated that he enlisted in Co. G, 17th O. N. G., previous to the war with Spain. He went into the service of his country with Co. G of the 7th O. V. O., enlisting April 25, 1908.

As was stated Friday he became ill while enroute to Camp Alger, near Washington, D. C., and his illness became of such a nature that he was taken to a Washington hospital. Later he was brought back home by his father.

Mertes L. Wright was one of the original charter members of the Spanish War Veterans of Newark, and was in all the combined associations that are now included in the present United Spanish War Veterans. He has served several terms as chaplain of the local camp. He was a member of Newark camp at the time of his death and will be buried with the honors of war by his comrades in the local organization.

INCREASE IN OIL PRODUCTION OF CALIFORNIA

According to the latest statistics on petroleum production California is the only state in the Union that has not shown a marked falling off in the production of the precious fluid. The oil fields of the Golden State, in fact, the only ones in this country that are at the present time, increasing their output.

The greatest shrinkage in production is in the mid-continent region. In New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Southeastern Ohio, comprising the Pennsylvania field, the decrease is not so noticeable, showing about 1500 barrels less new production in July than in June.

In the Lia-Kentucky-Indiana region there is also a shrinkage, but the production has already decreased to a point where any change is immaterial. In the Illinois field there was a decrease in July of 39 completed wells, 2881 barrels of new production, and new work is about a standoff with June.

In the states of Oklahoma, Kansas, Northwestern Louisiana and Northern Texas, comprising the mid-continent fields, there were 164 fewer wells completed in July than in June, the new production was 21,000 barrels less and the shrinkage in new work was 68.

In the Gulf region eight more wells were reported in July than in June, the new production was 4663 barrels greater, with two more dry holes, and there were nine fewer rigs and drilling wells in July than in June.

During the month of July average daily production from a total of 4,130 wells in California amounted to 225,672 barrels, and the market has absorbed a daily average of 181,890 barrels. This shows a daily surplus of 43,782 barrels. The increase in consumption over the preceding month was over 200,000 barrels.

Production in California is being temporarily curtailed, pending completion of new pipe lines and additional storage facilities which are necessary to handle the rapidly increasing production.

LABOR FEDERATION IN FIGHTING TRIM

Washington, Aug. 27.—"Never was the American Federation of Labor in better fighting trim than today." This was the note sounded by Samuel Gompers in the annual labor day review which will appear in the labor day edition of the official organ of the federation. He says the big international unions are stronger numerically and financially than ever before and that the united voice of the press, pulpit and public shows that the American people are recognizing the necessity of unionism.

REAPING BENEFIT From the Experience of Newark People.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Newark residents on the following subjects will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.

C. L. Starr, 89 Hancock St., Newark, Ohio, says: "I have had no desire to retract anything from the public statement I gave in 1901, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, as the cure they effected at that time has been permanent. I suffered for years from kidney complaint and backache, and although I used numerous remedies, I was unable to obtain relief. I had a constant pain across my loins, and when I attempted to stoop, my suffering was always increased. My back was weak and I sat in one position for any length of time, it was almost impossible for me to arise. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Crayton & Co's Drug Store and was surprised by the prompt relief they brought. They quickly dispensed of the backache and improved my health. I am always glad to say a few words in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Doctor And the Dog

He Had Brought a Friend With Him

I AM going to tell you this evening," said daddy to Evelyn and Jack, "about a wise dog which once got a doctor to help him when he was in trouble, but which also brought another dog to the doctor to be treated."

"The doctor, who was a good and patient man, was driving along a country road when he heard a dog whining at the roadside. The doctor stopped his carriage, got down and looked for the dog. He found him lying on his paw stretched out and looking up at him as if he wanted to say:

"Oh, just look at my poor paw! How much it hurts!"

"The doctor looked at the paw and saw that there was a big thorn stuck in it. He bent the poor dog so that he could get the thorn out, and he had to stay at the roadside until the thorn was out and he could go on to help him."

"The doctor saw that the paw was badly hurt and so much so for him to treat the dog where he was. So he lifted the dog in his carriage and drove home with the dog's head on his lap, soothing the poor animal as well as he could until the doctor's home was reached. When they got there the doctor took the dog into his office, pulled out the thorn and washed and dressed the wound. While he was doing this the dog remained very quiet, and when the paw was dressed and he was bandaging it the doctor said, 'There, that will do for awhile; the poor animal gave me such a sharp bark, as though he wanted to say, 'Thank you, doctor!'

"Well, the dog did not walk for awhile and had to remain in the doctor's home until his paw healed. The doctor examined it every day, and when it was quite well he said to the dog, 'There, my dog, you're all right now and can run home to your master.' Before the dog left he looked up into the doctor's face and wagged his tail. Then he ran out."

"A few weeks later the doctor heard the noise of barking at his front gate. He went out to see what was the matter and what do you suppose he found there?"

"The same dog!" said Evelyn and Jack together.

"Yes," said daddy, "and he had brought a friend with him. The other dog had hurt his foot and the first wise dog had known enough to bring him to the doctor's office to be treated. The good doctor was greatly amused. He gave the two dogs some food and then looked at the one which was ill. He put some salve on the sore foot and tied it up. Then the two dogs ran off together."

"But who paid the doctor, daddy?" asked Jack.

"He was paid enough by the pleasure of having done good to two poor dumb animals," was daddy's answer.

INDEPENDENT OIL PRODUCERS HAVE ORGANIZED

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 27.—With the selection of four of the 13 directors, the first steps in the formation of the new High Grade Oil Refining Company, capitalized at $1,000,000, have been taken, and according to advices here, 250 of the producers will be enlisted in the new organization within a short time.

The four directors already named, subject to the vote of the stockholders, are: M. W. Vernon, president of the Evans Oil Company of Pittsburg; Homer R. Elliott, president of the N. A. Sutton, president of the Ohio Oil Company of Wellsville; O. N. A. Sutton, president of the Standard Oil Company of Cleveland; O. and J. A. Schofield, president of J. A. Schofield & Co., Franklin Pa.

According to the promoters of the organization, 10,000 barrels of oil per month have already been turned up in the district. J. A. Schofield of the company, today, denied that the company was organized to fight the Standard Oil Company, but said it was merely a combination of independent producers who believe that they can get a better price for their oil.

WONDERFUL CURE OF SORE HANDS

Skin Peeled and Flesh Got Hard and Broke—Blood Flowed in Fifty Places—"Single Box of Cuticura Ended Suffering."

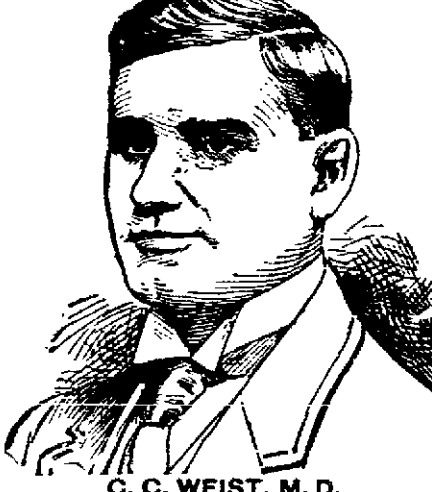

"About eleven years ago I was troubled with sore hands, so sore that when I would put on water the pain would be very nearly unbearable. The skin would peel off and the flesh would get hard and broke. There would be blood flowing from at least fifty places on each hand. Words could never tell the suffering I endured for three years. I tried everything that I was told to use for fully three years, but could get no relief. I tried at least eight different doctors, but none of them seemed to do me any good, as my hands were as bad when I got through doctoring as when I first began. I also tried many remedies, but none of them ever did me one cent's worth of good. I was discouraged and heart-sore. I would feel so bad mornings when I got up, to think I had to go to work and stand the pain for ten hours, and I often felt like giving up my position.

"Before I started to work mornings I would have to wrap every finger up separately, so as to try and keep them soft, and then wear gloves over the rags to keep the grease from getting on my work. At night I would have to wear gloves in bed. In fact, I had to wear gloves all the time. After doctoring for three years, and spending much money, a single box of Cuticura Ointment ended all my sufferings. It is but eight years since I used any, and I don't know what sore hands are now, and never lost a day's work while using Cuticura Ointment. Thomas A. Cleary, 310 N. Montgomery St., Trenton, N. J., Nov. 11, 1909."

A single box of Cuticura Soap and Ointment is often sufficient to effect the most obstinate treatment for sore hands of the skin and scalp. Sold throughout the world. Price 25c. per box.

CENSUS FACTS.
St. Louis, with only 680,000 population and 111,000 gain, is a distinct disappointment to the 750,000 expectants and carries a surprise to all census students. Detroit with 467,000, or 190,000 more than Cincinnati, is the banner big city so far, and probably will have that honor when counts are all finished. The growing automobile business did it, and a big growth was expected, but 180,000 gain for a city that had 280,000 in 1900 is nevertheless remarkable. Detroit is fast coming up to Pittsburgh, and Cleveland won't have much to brag on when compared with the Michigan metropolis. Atlanta has over 150,000 and its growth of 73 per cent indicates what's going on in the enterprising southern cities. Like Bridgeport, Waterbury, Conn., shows a big gain, as does Newark, N. J., Schenectady, N. Y., and other eastern cities. Enough is already known of census results to show that the center of population has taken no western step in the past decade, and it may have pulled a few miles east.

HOW AN ACTOR LOOKED AT IT.

John McGraw, manager of the Giants, has many friends among theatrical people. Before a recent game he met an actor and noticed that he was wearing a mourning band on his arm.

"It's for my father," the actor explained. "I've just come from his funeral."

McGraw expressed his sympathy. The actor's grief was obviously very real and great. "I attended to all the funeral arrangements," said he. "We had everything just as father would have liked."

"Were there many there?" asked McGraw.

"Many there!" cried the actor with pride. "Why, my boy, we turned 'em away!"

RECEPTION

them. The man of the west through the successive stages of western growth has always been one of the two or three most typical figures—indeed, I am tempted to say the most typical figure—in American life, and no man can really understand our country and appreciate what it really is and what it promises unless he has the fullest and closest sympathy with the ideals and aspirations of the west.

The prime reason for this is to be found in the fact that the westerner is so good an American. He is an American first and foremost. For this is the great lesson, friends, that all of us need to learn and to keep, the lesson that it is unimportant whether a man lives north or south, east or west, provided he is genuinely and in good faith an American, that he feels every part of the United States as his own and that he is honestly desirous to uphold the interests of all other Americans in whatever section of the country they may dwell.

The Expanding of the West.

A hundred years ago, when men spoke of the west, they meant the country between the Alleghenies and the Mississippi. Fifty years ago the white man's west took in Minnesota, Iowa and Kansas and then skipped across to California and Oregon. The country of the great plains and the Rockies, the country in which you whom I am now addressing lead your lives and do your work, has grown up within my own lifetime.

I myself saw and took part in the closing years of the pioneer period, and it was my great privilege to work side by side with the pioneers—the ranchmen, the miners, the cowpunchers, the mule skinner, the bullwhacker—who actually opened up the country.

I have seen the herds and flocks of the cattlemen and sheepmen supplant the game. I have seen the fortunate movement by which the small farm has tended gradually to take the place of the great unfenced ranch.

I now travel in every comfort on railroads across lands which when I first rode across them were still the home of the Indian and the buffalo, and I find cities where one can obtain not merely comfort, but luxury, in the places where thirty years ago there was not a building beyond a log hut or a "dobe house."

The men who did this work were engaged in the final stages of conquering the continent, and it was their privilege to do one of the great works of all time, to do their part in the performance of an epic feat in the history of the progress of mankind.

I have used the word progress. The west stands for growth, for progress. So must the whole American people stand. A great democracy must be progressive or it will soon cease to be either great or democratic. No nation, no state, no party, can stand still. It must either go forward or go backward, and it becomes useless if it goes backward. Therefore I greet you, men of the west, and I stand for progress, as all men must stand who are progressive.

The pioneers and their immediate successors won victory only by proving that they possessed the great, masterful qualities which lie at the foundation of national greatness. There are certain well meaning men of intellectual cultivation, but lacking mental and moral robustness, who complain continually that they find American life, and especially the life of those American communities emerging from the pioneer stage, crude and without genius or beauty.

Genius is a fine thing for a nation, but character is a still finer thing, and, though beauty is good, strength is an even greater good. The men who have made this great republic of the west what it is, and especially the men who have turned it into a continental commonwealth, have possessed in the highest degree the great virtues of strength, courage, energy and undaunted and unswerving resolution.

Their typical leaders, of whom Abraham Lincoln, though the most exceptional, was the most typical, have possessed keen intelligence and a character not merely strong, but lofty; a character exalted by the fact that great power was accompanied by a high and fine determination to use this great power for the common good, for the advancement of mankind.

Pioneer Days Over.

The pioneer days are over, save in a few places, and the more complex life of today calls for a greater variety of good qualities than was needed on the frontier. There is need at present to encourage the development of new abilities which can be brought to high perfection only by a kind of training useless in pioneer times, but these new qualities can only supplement and never supplant the old, homely virtues; the need for the special and distinctive pioneer virtues is as great as ever.

In other words, as our civilization grows older and more complex, while it is true that we need new forms of trained ability and need to develop men whose lives are devoted wholly to the pursuit of special objects, it is yet also true that we need a greater and not a less development of the fundamental frontier virtues.

These virtues include the power of self help, together with the power of joining with others for mutual help and, what is especially important, the feeling of comradeship, of social good fellowship. Any man who had the good fortune to live among the old frontier conditions must in looking back realize how vital was this feeling of general comradeship and social fellowship.

There were good men and bad men in the new communities just as in the old communities, and the conditions on the frontier were such that the qualities of the good and bad alike were rather more strikingly manifested than in older communities, but among the men who tried to lead hard working, decent lives there was a feeling of genuine democracy, which represented an approach to the American ideal which we certainly should do everything in our power to preserve.

We did not try to say that men were equal when they were not equal, but we did our best to secure something like an equality of opportunity and an equality of reward for good service, and, moreover, each man expected to be received, and on the whole was received wherever he went on the footing that his merits warranted.

Now, so far as possible, these qualities and the conditions that bring about these qualities should be kept in the great states which are growing out of the old frontier communities. We need to strive for the general social betterment of the people as a whole and yet to encourage individual liberty and set high reward on individual initiative up to the point where they become detrimental to the general welfare.

In continually and earnestly striving for this betterment of social and economic conditions in our complex industrial civilization we should work in the old frontier spirit of rugged strength and courage and yet with the old frontier spirit of brotherly comradeship and good will.

I do not mean that we should refrain from hating wrong. On the contrary, I would preach fiery wrath against wrong. But I would not preach such wrath against the wrongdoer save in those cases where his wrongdoing really is due to evil moral attributes on his part and not to a wrong or false system, of which he is almost as much the victim as the beneficiary.

Sometimes a wrong represents the deliberate wickedness of the wrongdoer, in which case the remedy is to punish him, but sometimes it represents the effects of a false social system, in which case the right course is to alter what is false in the system. Both principles need to be kept in view as guides to our conduct, and it is necessary sometimes to work in accordance with one and sometimes in accordance with the other.

Before ending I wish to say a word on something which, I believe, should especially interest all men who live in the open country, and especially all men who during the past thirty years have lived and worked on ranches or have done their life work in the wilder parts of our land, on the great plains or among the mountains.

The phase of our national life in which the stockman, the mining prospector, the frontier farmer and their associates were the chief characters was not only an important, but also a very picturesque phase.

Often such a phase passes without any great artist arising to commemorate it. The old time backwoodsman, for instance, the man of the back country, who lived in the eastern forests, through which the waters ran eastward to the Atlantic and westward to the Mississippi, passed away without any painter or sculptor arising who possessed at once both the keenness of vision to see what a vital and picturesque figure the backwoodsman was and the genius adequately to present that figure.

Monument For Remington.

The artists who saw the picturesque of the backwoodsman lacked the genius adequately to commemorate it, while the artists of real ability unfortunately had their eyes turned toward Europe and lacked the robust originality which the novelist Cooper showed—to see where their chance lay to do a great work.

But in our generation for our good fortune a great artist arose who was capable of seeing and of recording the infinite picturesqueness of the life of the plains and the Rockies. Of our age I speak of Frederic Remington. He was one of those Americans who by their achievements distinctly deserved well of America. He worked with pencil, with brush, with chisel. He was both a painter and a sculptor. His pictures and his few bronzes are equally good.

When my own regiment, a typically western regiment, recruited mainly from the men of the great plains and the mountains, was disbanded at Mount Point, the officers and enlisted men joined in giving me Remington's bronze broncho buster, a gift which I thought peculiarly appropriate, coming from such a body of men.

In Remington's pictures all the most vivid and characteristic features of the western pioneer life which is just closing were set forth, and he has commemorated forever the men of the plains and the mountains as they actually were. The cowboy is his favorite type, but the mining prospector, the frontier farmer, the man who guides an wagon or mule team, the soldier, the Indian—all appear. Now I wish very much that these men themselves would in their turn provide a monument for the great artist, the sum of whose activities represents such a feature of American achievement and, above all, represents the commemoration of some of the most interesting figures that have ever appeared on the stage of American life.

A statue should be raised to Remington by some really first class artist. Here at Cherone in this gathering many hundreds of the men have come together who were themselves typical leaders in and representatives of the very life which Remington so portrayed that it will always live. I hope that these men will join together, arrange the appointment of a committee and start to raise funds for the erection of such a statue.

Homemade Candles.

Save all the candle ends from the candlesticks and candelabra and keep in a jar. When a quantity has accumulated, melt all in a granite or iron kettle and run the hot wax into candle molds which have been threaded with candle wicking. The candles will come out pretty and odd colors from the various shades of wax which have been melted together. In any community is some old resident who can show one how to thread the candle wicking in the candle molds if one does not know. If the article does not boast a set of candle molds they can be purchased or made at the tinsmith's or bought at the second-hand shop or where antiques are sold. Small sizes can be made at the tinsmith's or bought ready made for the children to use. Should the candle ends accumulate too slowly wax and paraffin can be bought and the regular recipes for candle making used.—Country Life In America.

Effects of Flower Scents.

Many strange cases are on record regarding the effects of the smell of flowers.

"A foreign officer," said a medical man, "one night went to sleep with a number of bunches of oleander—an evergreen shrub with red and white flowers—in his bedroom. In the morning he was found dead. The pungent smell of the oleander asphyxiated him."

"Less serious is the case of a doctor who, after sitting for some time in a room where there were several bowls of jasmine, became exceedingly giddy. He removed the flowers, whereupon he was himself again at once."

"A number of oranges in a room has been known to make a man unconscious. I know also of the case of a man who, going to sleep in a store-room full of apricots, was discovered next day in an unconscious condition and lay for some time in peril of his life."—London Mail.

Easy Money.

Two Coney Island waiters were talking about short changing.

"It's bad to take a raw chance," said one, "because you never can tell what will happen if you're caught. The best picking I ever had I didn't take any chances on. I was selling tickets at a fifteen cent attraction. Every time a guy shoved in a two dollar bill for one or two tickets I counted out carefully 5 or 10 cents in silver too much. If he bought two tickets I'd lay out 50 cents in silver. Nine men out of ten would grab the change and beat it, thinking they had beat me out of a dime. They seldom remembered that I had a dollar more to give them than they were in such a hurry to get away with my dime."

"The tenth man who didn't fall for the game was generally honest enough to shove my dime back, so I seldom lost anything. I made $10 a day besides my pay, all without taking a chance."—New York Sun.

She Preferred His Rival.

A story is told of Lord Melbourne in his character of premier asking the young Queen Victoria whether "there was any individual for whom she felt such a preference in that she would wish to have him associated with her in the ears of sovereignty." The queen, a little astonished asked whether the question was put by Lord Melbourne in his character of a minister of the crown, and he replied that under no other circumstances would he have presumed to address such a question to her majesty. "Then," said the queen, "I must admit there is one individual for whom I entertain a decided preference, and that individual is the Duke of Wellington." The length of Lord Melbourne's face may be imagined, the duke being, of course, his great political adversary.

LABOR NEWS

Tomorrow, Sunday, August 28, the regular session of the Newark Trades and Labor Assembly will be called to order promptly at 9 o'clock a.m., and we hope to have a full attendance of delegates. Business of importance to be brought before the assembly.

Remember the memorial services to be held in the high school auditorium Sunday, September 1, at 2 o'clock p.m., at which time Rev. F. E. Vernon will deliver an address upon "Labor" from a Biblical viewpoint. Those who know Mr. Vernon say he is a silver-tongued orator and a treat is in store for all who attend.

As there will be no regular Labor Day celebration in Newark we hope that every union man and all non-union men and their families will be present and all are cordially invited and will be welcome. There will be nothing of a sectarian or political nature injected into this service, so all may come. There will be instrumental and vocal music, and we extend an invitation to all clergymen of all denominations to be present.

A Lady of Pizarro Tells Story of Awful Suffering That Cardui Finally Relieved.

Pizarro, Va.—"I suffered for several years," writes Mrs. Norma A. Smith, "with that awful backache and the bearing-down sensations, so fully described in your book."

"I tried doctors and other medicines and found little relief, until I was induced to try Wine of Cardui, when I found instant relief, and today I can heartily recommend Cardui to all suffering women and think there is no other as good."

In some instances, Cardui gives instant relief; in others, it may take a little time, but in all cases of female trouble Cardui can be depended on to be of benefit, as it is a specific remedy for women and acts in a curative way on the womanly organs.

As a general tonic for women, to build up your strength, improve your appetite, bring back rosy cheeks and make you look and feel young and happy, nothing you can find will do so much for you as Cardui.

mental or physical overwork, slow work of short duration is indicated. We do not hesitate to advise complete rest when the subject's appearance indicates it.

We have no fads or cure-all systems. We endeavor to interest our members in some game like hand ball, volley ball, basket ball, or games with the medicine ball, but we allow none of these to absorb all the attention to the neglect of all-round body-building, which we promote by creating interest in gymnastics and athletics.

We have a large number of business men as members, to whose health any long-continued form of violent exercise would be dangerous. This class is given light work and their favorite game of volley ball.

In starting a new member, great care is taken to avoid muscular stiffness. What would be extreme effort for one man would be very light for another of stronger build. It is our intention to make the initial visits of a member to the gymnasium pleasantly remembered, instead of making his sore and feverish, so the introduction consists of light exercises adapted, as nearly as our experience directs, to the capacity of the individual. The whole aim of the department is to make exercise a pleasure and not a drudgery. We try to avoid the evils of overwork induced by preparation for extreme competition, which are fully as bad to health as the lack of physical exercise.

The gymnasium classes start in Oct. 1, and from all indications there will be a large enrollment this season. W. J. LIVINGSTON, Physical Director.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS

W. D. Wiggins, engineer-in-charge of way, W. H. Pollock, superintendent of buildings, W. R. Lenew, assistant trainmaster, and J. J. Lane, foreman of company of the Pennsylvania Railway Co., arrived in Newark Friday evening in a special car at 7 o'clock, on an inspection for contemplated improvements. They stopped at the Hotel Warden over night and left Saturday morning at 7 o'clock for Pittsburgh.

An order has been issued by the B. & O. whereby local passenger trains cannot be held more than five minutes at the Mansfield station. For one time just the trains have been held in Mansfield for ten minutes or more for the accommodation of the express company on account of the large amount of express handled here. The large shipment of wool goods out of Mansfield has been responsible for a great increase in the express business and during the latter part of the week it is so heavy that trains have been very seriously delayed. The new order, however, effective yesterday and the trains will not wait more than five minutes.

LITTLE CHILD BADLY BURNED AT MARTINSBURG

Mervin Snyder, two years old, of Martinsburg, was terribly burned on Friday by a boiling kettle of peaches. In the absence of his mother from the room, the child was playing on a chair near the stove. He lost his balance and fell. Frankly, he clutched the nearest object, which proved to be the kettle, and in so doing scalded his body. It is thought doing precipitated the water and that under favorable circumstances he will live.

RECORD FOR LONG DISTANCE HITTING

New York, Aug. 27.—The season's record for long distance hitting is now held by Danny Murphy, of the Philadelphia Athletics. In five times at bat with St. Louis, he made five hits off two pitchers, a home run, triple, double and two singles. The feat netted Murphy 11 bases. The long distance hitting record for one game is 17 bases and is held jointly by Ed Delahanty and Bob Lowe. Each made four home runs and a single in five times at bat.

Food for baseball fans to reflect on is also found in the trick turned by Bobby Byrne, Pittsburgh's third baseman in a game with Brooklyn. Byrne may be said to have won the game all by himself. In the 12th inning he scored the winning run after there were two men out. He singled, reached second on a base on balls, stole third and then home.

THREE STATES HAVE INTERESTING CAMPAIGNS FOR GOVERNOR

In California, Tennessee and Georgia the voters have most interesting campaign fights scheduled for this fall, and the eyes of many people will be turned on the battles. In Georgia the Democrats have named a former governor and one-time secretary of the Interior, Hoke Smith. While he was governor he dismissed Joseph M. Brown from the railroad commission on the ground that

THEO. A. BELL

Brown was dominated by railroad interests, and when Mr. Smith sought another term, he was defeated by Brown. This time both were again candidates, and Smith "came back" by defeating Brown. In California the Democrats have nominated Theodore A. Bell, former representative in congress, to oppose Hiram Johnson, an avowed insurgent candidate of the Republicans, and in Tennessee the fight is made interesting by the candidacy of Captain Ben. W. Hooper, who is opposed to almost everything that Governor Patterson has advocated during his incumbency. Independent state wide prohibition Democrats who have fought Governor Patterson are expected to support the ticket headed by Captain Hooper instead of the regular Democratic nominees.

INDIGNANT COW KICKS

Headlight Out of a Turing Car—Gets Revenge for Being Struck.

Auto accidents come thick and fast with the increased use of the machines, but now is one out of the ordinary, and one that fortunately did not result in serious harm, but afforded an indignant cow an opportunity to get revenge for being hit by a buzz wagon. The story must be told in its entirety. G. R. Moore and family were out for a spin on the Monmouth road in their touring car, a few days ago. A neck-tie was grazing peacefully by the side of the road when a dog ran out from the bushes and the animal, standing right in front of the machine, was proceeding at a very slow speed. Bossy was bowled over by the truck, however, and became wedged under the front axle of the car with her feet in the air. All about to extricate the cow proved fruitless, and it was found necessary to use the lifting jack to release her.

For some time the animal was not injured and she had her revenge, for as the car was raised she jumped up and with a flying salute in the form of a vicious kick which smashed the head of Mr. Moore's machine.

When there is ill will there is also a way.

In these days of airships the expression "a flying trip" has some real significance.

THE JUNE EARNINGS OF THE RAILROADS

New York, Aug. 26.—Figures are now available showing the financial results of railroad operation in June. Returns from 205,000 miles of road—about 90 per cent of the country's total mileage—show that operating expenses increased $22,938,052, or 13.35 per cent., over June of last year. Thus, out of the $23,565,112 increase in gross, only $627,025 was saved for net. This represents an increase of less than 1 per cent. in net earnings as compared with the same month last year.

The wage advances had begun to have a decided effect upon operating expenses at the beginning of this summer and this was one of the principal causes of the shrinkage in net earnings. The readjustment of wages, however, did not reach its final stage in June. Some of the advances have gone into effect, and others have been announced, since the first of July, so that the full effect is not yet apparent.

Some of the railroads whose June net earnings fell off from June 1909, with the amount of the decrease in each case, are as follows:

Louisville & Nashville, $624,467; N. Y. Central, $499,506; Illinois Central, $483,102; Pennsylvania, $439,471; New Haven, $408,118; M. K. & T., $245,858; San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake, $330,914; St. Louis & San Francisco, $214,176; Boston & Maine, $274,159; Union Pacific, $223,834; Great Northern, $230,591; Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, $209,643; Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, $185,062; C. C. C. & St. L., $144,026; Chesapeake & Ohio, $228,100.

Among the roads which made increases are the Chicago and North-western, B. & O., Missouri Pacific, Atchison, Denver & Rio Grande, Erie, Southern Pacific and Rock Island.
